In the past, I've tackled a lot of aspects of negotiation, but I haven't really blogged about the basics of the whole negotiation process before. It's probably about time. Many of us grew up during a time when negotiation was seen as largely a win-lose prospect. It was adversarial, with the ultimate goal to get as much as you can for as little as you can, without thought for the other side.

For many years, I have blogged about buying new and used cars and even authored an online course on doing so. Automobile sales have been up for 2014 and 2015 as owners increasingly replace their older cars, an average of 11.5 years according to USA Today citing an IHS Marketing survey in 2015. Nevertheless, does the dawn of driverless cars and burgeoning presence of firms like Uber and Lyft ...
